REVIEWS

My team from Driving Well Occupational Therapy had a lovely experience hiring the Inna Essence studio for our first ever team planning meeting. When making plans for our planning meeting, I knew that I wanted to utilise a different space that was removed from the daily grind, where we could feel creative, inspired, nurtured and nourished, so we could do some planning and some dreaming. The space that I knew would deliver this in spades was the Inna Essence Studio.

Anna made the booking process so easy... and she had everything we needed – we set-up the large wooden table and folding chairs in the far corner of the studio, brought large butchers paper and sticky post-it notes to be able to get our brainstorming out of our heads, and we took some time for self-compassion and meditation on the floor.

And we had lunch at Mi Casa cafe downstairs!

My team loved it and loved the opportunity to think "on-the-business" in such a beautiful environment.

Thank you Inna Essence for making our planning day so successful!
